About the Conference

Education has always been supposed to promote harmony and peace all over the world. The universal human values are always focused on by education in schools and colleges. Harmony and Peace are two distinct values of these universal human values and need to be developed among the humankind through education. It can bring a peaceful and stable order to the society, and are necessary conditions for the survival and development of mankind. History shows that all the thoughts that are against harmony and peace are against the will of the people and shall perish by themselves. The wave of globalization has been connecting all the countries of the world into a community to an unprecedented extent, which implies that a mankind society in its true sense is taking shape. Harmony and Peace are enjoyed and possessed jointly by mankind, which is the base for the full realization of the creativity potential of individuals, the sustainable development of the economy and culture of nations, and a true security for the long lasting prosperity of Humanity.
